

...and Kyroot said:

The quicker you get finished over here, the sooner you'll be finished over there.

...and Kyroot said:

True improvisation doesn't require that you "know the song", its not even necessary that you know ANY song.

...and Kyroot said:

To truly "circle your prey" would require that you teach wagon trains to attack a circumference.

...and Kyroot said:

It takes just as long to do two things as it does one, (if its the right one).

...and Kyroot said:

Why keep writing when your fingers have run out of anything to say?

...and Kyroot said:

There is never a full conversion of energy,
Men, or ANY thing.

...and Kyroot said:

On this train its not possible to both "be ON board", and BE bored.

...and Kyroot said:

Any Man who speaks about the "all" of anything speaks of the "nothing" of His intelligence.

...and Kyroot said:

A good ruler always welcomes advice. (You don't believe that do you?)

...and Kyroot said:

It is extremely tacky to stand up in a temple and shout out to the priests,
"O.k., how many coaches have actually ever played the game?"
EXTREMELY tacky.

...and Kyroot said:

One benefit of a life well-spent is that the mortuary never realizes you stiffed 'em for the bill.

...and Kyroot said:

How bout this: I heard a guy say, for reasons known only to somebody, that,
"If you don't look at me when I speak to you I won't speak to you when you look at me."

...and Kyroot said:

Waiting until the last second is quite proper if you are in the process of executing your last thing.

...and Kyroot said:

It is indeed a spoon-bending fashion statement to wear a hair shirt with a silk tie.
(Oh my).

...and Kyroot said:

Good wars don't need to be advertised.

...and Kyroot said:

A Man who had what appeared to be some type of revolutionist bruises about
His head was heard announcing,
"Ahoy, ole and hooray, I have built an invisible structure with unknown materials on non-existent land. Hooray, I say."

...and Kyroot said:

Don't forget now: In the City, what EVER it is they may do to you, it is,
as they like to say, "For your OWN
good."

...and Kyroot said:

It IS further from here-to-there than it is vicy versy.

...and Kyroot said:

Under most conditions, if the City powers just KNOW you, they can blackmail ya.

...and Kyroot said:

A Man's best friend's just around the bend.

...and Kyroot said:

Be advised, and — Watch it!: Those who've "gone before" are back.

.