

...and Kyroot said:

No need to go away if you're just coming back.

...and Kyroot said:

Then someone declared, "The sound definitely came from somewhere."

...and Kyroot said:

Truism Bi-Scan, TJ-4: Those who take cynicism, sarcasm and criticism for intelligence, deserve it.

Or,

The sooner sarcasm, and criticism replaces intelligence the better for all of us.

...and Kyroot said:

One City guy, who apparently knows what he likes said, "If god hadn't intended Man to drink he wouldn't have created him."

...and Kyroot said:

Those who live alone think alone.

...and Kyroot said:

Rolling on the floor won't help you score, (then again, it might).

...and Kyroot said:

To be a really proper revolutionary leader, no one should fully understand how you operate, or think.

...and Kyroot said:

There is a place outside symmetrical, and asymmetrical; that is beyond intellectual topology that is uniform and orderly.

...and Kyroot said:

Those who've given up, instruct.

...and Kyroot said:

Regarding the fact that Life, in Its genetic generalities, is dumber than
It is in Its individual particulars, we could propose these two pertinent, competing slogans, "Breed To Succeed", vs
"Read To Succeed."

...and Kyroot said:

Don't be rude unless you understand its proper purpose.

...and Kyroot said:

No matter what the signs say, in certain parts of the City, if you don't see it, don't ask for it.

...and Kyroot said:

Being short's no crime; thinking you are is.

...and Kyroot said:

After all, what IS being civilized but expressing your regard for those lucid intervals.

...and Kyroot said:

One ole City sore-noggin seasonally said, "The sure cure for being impressed by our law-makers is simply to go to our legislative chambers and get a good look at them.", but, jeeze, ole timer, that's true about EVERY thing.

...and Kyroot said:

---

There's not much need to be concerned over the sometimes sound of gunfire in the distance, for if you could hear better, its there all the time.

...and Kyroot said:

Don't hold your breath, for those 8:30 reservations waiting to ever actually hear this, but I have at least composed the "Truthful City Blues", whose first and final verses go something like, nay, almost exactly like this,
"Although you mistreat me,
I love you just the same.
Although you mistreat me,
I love you just the same.
I guess I'm just a stupid
son-of-a-bitch."

...and Kyroot said:

A passing lapse in your dumbness may not mean much.

...and Kyroot said:

There is no defense against a circle.

...and Kyroot said:

Then again, it may come down to this: Make history, or BE history.

.