

...and Kyroot said:

The real cause of most stuff IS something.

...and Kyroot said:

In City discussions don't be impressed if one side admits about the other,
"Well, they've got a point.",
in the City EVERYbody's
got a point.

...and Kyroot said:

If anything IS actually out-of-place we're all goners...and I mean goners-for-good!

...and Kyroot said:

If it was the kind of secret I could reveal to just anybody the few-of-you wouldn't wanna know it.

...and Kyroot said:

Over in that free-leafed City park last week-end I saw this one fellow who stormed and stomped around shaking his fist and demanding, "O.k., where's
the plot?,
where's the
plot?"

...and Kyroot said:

On one blustery, mid-winter's morning, the man at the table asked, "Is it cold, or is it me?", and the wife replied, "Both, you ninny.", "Ah.", he said; said she, " 'Ah' indeed."

...and Kyroot said:

I am disturbed by the similarity of the words, "hope",and"dope."

...and Kyroot said:

Whilst rambling through a book of City poetry I rambled upon the following line, "Where my heart will lie I pray also will lie my brain."

I do sorta wish we would dig up, and revive this bard, and ask him what he specifically perceived
as an alternative
possibility
to the above.

...and Kyroot said:

As one City dude was oftentimes wont to say, "After all the kissing, and blood shed has ceased will Verdi still reign supreme?" No one seems to have any idea
why this person
is oftentimes wont
to say this.

...and Kyroot said:

If you can find out how to do it, or even catch yourself in time to do so,
here's what you should do: Even in your foolishness, be deliberate.

...and Kyroot said:

If you WERE mind-readers, and brain-hearers, how often, do you suspect,
you would discover, just as the train pulls away , many mulling about the station
would suddenly think, "Ah, NOW
I see."?

...and Kyroot said:

His intellectual progeny was such that it made you glad you lived in a singles complex.

...and Kyroot said:

A mother told her daughter never to read any 19th century poetry within an hour after eating.

...and Kyroot said:

The fall of an Adam & Eve from an original, pristine Garden-of-Passion was not via an apple, but by an argument. The original sin-passio is always in the first
fight between the lover

...and Kyroot said:

Come on, do you think its actually a matter of "secret information", or a paucity of ears?

...and Kyroot said:

What IS KNOWN is not generally known. That is, what is known by the Few is not known by the Many.

...and Kyroot said:

What strange creatures may have avoided the captivity of words?

...and Kyroot said:

There IS no acceptable metaphor for a gun.

...and Kyroot said:

In the real Revolution, that which is TOO exact can be deadly.

...and Kyroot said:

If the solution fits, — WEAR IT!