

...and Kyroot said:

In the regular wiring of City dwellers, vices act as fuses.

...and Kyroot said:

For the Revolutionist, there's really no such place as almost.

...and Kyroot said:

There is a certain monster that haunts the far corners of the universe, always just out of human sight.

...and Kyroot said:

Once, just after having had several real good thoughts in a row, a Trooper asked himself, "Are you getting TOC smart for your own good?", and after momentary reflection replied, "Are you nuts?"

...and Kyroot said:

There was this would-be jurist-critic who finally conceded, "Even if I COULD draw up a valid indictment of Life, who would I get to serve it?"

...and Kyroot said:

There was this one City Person who each night prayed, "Oh dear lord, I beseech thee, and pray that in the morn you will once again put me back together."

...and Kyroot said:

It pays to know where you're going, (at the very least in money saved in map purchases.)

...and Kyroot said:

At one Revolutionist Camp, at their weekly gathering, it came a Trooper's turn to address his comrades; he stood, and said just this, "There has recently occurred with me an event upon which it is most difficult to speak.", then he sat back down to appreciative silence.

...and Kyroot said:

Look, if it seems like you're gonna "over do it" at least don't OVER do it.

...and Kyroot said:

There are reports from the City of a Man now roaming the streets,
beating His thighs and crying out, "Who, who unto us, and our fates; the Age of Economists is upon us."

...and Kyroot said:

Those who have heros deserve them... o.k., have it your way.

...and Kyroot said:

All City "truth" is, by its own unrecognized nature, allusive and emblematic.

...and Kyroot said:

REAL rulers have the People as their "imaginary playmate."

...and Kyroot said:

In the alive, expanding world of the revolution, original plans don't mean shit.

...and Kyroot said:

No matter how great may be the Man, do not idly stand in the shadow of someone falling TOWARD you.

...and Kyroot said:

A parade without clowns will disappoint all but the generals and the chauvinists.

...and Kyroot said:

Since you cannot pass your days in garb unsoiled, would you prefer it to come from stains, or wounds?

...and Kyroot said:

A would-be Revolutionist can't be a slow mind on a fast track, (and there's no prize for being a fast one on a slow one). You see, its just like you always suspected,
you just can't win unless you wir

...and Kyroot said:

One determined Trooper cried out, "If there IS such a thing as the 'abstract truth' then I want an abstract mind to perceive it with."

...and Kyroot said:

Free People don't need to be rich.