

...and Kyroot said:

All ordinary forms of awareness have an evil, anti-twin brother.

...and Kyroot said:

Never totally submit to any ritual that you didn't invent.

...and Kyroot said:

Overheard a guy say, "I always took my lips to be my friend, and then they began to talk."

...and Kyroot said:

The only reason anyone attempts to sell by mail is because the merchandise is so shoddy that no one would buy it in person; remember this when you send off your prayer requests to unseen gods.

...and Kyroot said:

Those who generally smell a rat generally are.

...and Kyroot said:

You DO know that I've told you a lot more than you think I have...(and that so have you.)

...and Kyroot said:

One City sorehead said that his humble aim in life was to "annoy the annoying."

...and Kyroot said:

Well, look at it this way: At LEAST Man's no worse than you imagined.

...and Kyroot said:

A would-be Revolutionist said that he knew he was in good hands when he heard the leader of the uprising say that he had Life itself stuck
all under his fingernails.

...and Kyroot said:

A chap over by the ice cream stand in the park told me that what he really sought from life was to find a place that advertised, "Speak a foreign language in two hours", "Lose twenty pounds in 5 minutes."

...and Kyroot said:

Whatever it is, remember this: Talking about it won't help... and also this:
Talking about
it WILL help.

...and Kyroot said:

Just about the time most people think its too late, it is.

...and Kyroot said:

You can almost always find some traces of a Revolutionist camp where things overlap.

...and Kyroot said:

Only City Men ritualize, and patronize their chains.

...and Kyroot said:

Another one of those illustrious City guys I'm always telling you about used to get up close to the bathroom mirror on some morning, point a finger right up against the reflection of his face, and exclaim, "O.k., you, come out of there."

...and Kyroot said:

After a particularly juicy whining spree, one father told his son, "Don't look for the frontiers of justice - you're it!"

...and Kyroot said:

Everyone works for the network.

...and Kyroot said:

One voice asked its partner, "Wealth, and position doesn't mean much to you, does it?", and the other voice thought, "Well, it means as much to me as it should."

...and Kyroot said:

One chap, when feeling particularly frisky would exclaim, "Thank god, only four months til
the weekend."

...and Kyroot said:

Oh, and by-the-way, you CAN live this.