

...and Kyroot said:

If you can calm down for a second you can calm down for a minute, and if you can calm down for a minute you can calm down for an hour, and if you can calm down for an hour you don't have to take two aspirin, or call me in the morning.

...and Kyroot said:

If all you can do is repeat, and reproduce other Mens' ideas you don't actually have an intellect,
you got a xerox.

...and Kyroot said:

One guy's definition of Life: "The attempt to avoid the inevitable."

...and Kyroot said:

One lad chided for his lack of effort responded by saying that he'd read that "Those consistantly superb are in risk of being taken for granted.", and that he wished to avoid this snare.

...and Kyroot said:

From the general area of a reputed Revolutionist camp, I heard the following comment, "We don't deal in conspiracy theories - we ARE one."

...and Kyroot said:

A certain person was asked why they never mentioned a certain tragedy that had recently befallen them, and they said, "As though it never happened."

"You surely can't mean that.", came the reply.

"It was so long ago.", said the person.

"It was only yesterday.", insisted the reply.

"So long ago", said they, "As though it never happened."

...and Kyroot said:

As he sent his boy off to tend to City affairs, a father advised,
"Remember, think mediocre."

...and Kyroot said:

Forget vampires, zombies, and the un-dead, the real ripe character is the Revolutionist, "He Who Returns
From The Living."

...and Kyroot said:

When its all an act its all bearable.

...and Kyroot said:

Its one thing for a Man to forget His duty, another to forget pay day.

...and Kyroot said:

In a Real Revolutionist Camp there is no sick bay.

...and Kyroot said:

Never mistake repairs for treatments, nor confuse treatments with cures...
unless you're in the City limits,
and then it doesn't matter.

...and Kyroot said:

At an educational gathering I heard one speaker declare that "Many people remain frightened by numbers."...
Jeese, imagine how they'll feel when they discover words.

...and Kyroot said:

There is this guy of no fixed address who refers to himself as a Doctor of Philantrapy, since he dispenses free advice, and, he adds, so as to have more to go around he takes none of it for himself.

...and Kyroot said:

From over that way, yeah, over near the Bushes, I heard this said, "Let us
now praise the juiciest thinkers."

...and Kyroot said:

Found this one ole dude over in the shady part of the park who concludes every sentence by adding, "Sic."

...and Kyroot said:

Everyone's wanted for a murder they didn't commit.

...and Kyroot said:

Tradition is a left over sandwich.

...and Kyroot said:

Overheard one City chap praying thuslt, "Oh god, may I becomes SO famous that I'll never have to apologize again.

...and Kyroot said:

Quizzical By-Play For The Day: Question: "You're not from around here, are you?"

Reply: "Is anybody?"