

...and Kyroot said:

Over on this one planet, anything that can be said of reality is also not true.

...and Kyroot said:

We dream of pluralities, but marry monoliths

...and Kyroot said:

Just before it's too late, it's too early again.

...and Kyroot said:

One guy said that the way to cover up for a bad memory was to pretend you weren't interested, and someone else said they thought that was the cause of a bad
memory, and the first guy said, "Ah, never mind, just forget it:"

...and Kyroot said:

A certain scientist now says that he's pretty sure there's an unrecognized force in the universe that causes things on some planets to seem disjointed, and fragmented.

...and Kyroot said:

In certain places certain numbers make certain people uneasy.

...and Kyroot said:

One guy invited to say a few words, stayed for dinner; another guy invited to dinner, lingered all year,
and another guy given the keys
to the house,
sold the sucker.

, 4/24/89-(8)

...and Kyroot said:

There's another funny place where the final score is not based on the way the game was played, but on the way it was scored.

...and Kyroot said:

"Hello, hello, this is a voice speaking...can anyone hear me?"

Now isn't that silly; why would any voice speak if no one could hear it?

...and Kyroot said:

If you don't roll-with-the-flow you can die-with-the-dialogue.

...and Kyroot said:

In one City, Wednesday is the longest day of the week.

...and Kyroot said:

From that little planet just over there, I once heard a voice sigh,

"Ah, to have lived when outrage was king."

...and Kyroot said:

There's some news always serving unseen needs.

...and Kyroot said:

Many people who say they want to "get home" really want to "get lost."

...and Kyroot said:

There's also a scientist in a sillier part of the universe who says there's yet another uncatalogued power, the "Yoo Who Force"...(he gives its more technical name as the "Hello There Principle.")

...and Kyroot said:

"Hell", noted one guy, "Everybody says 'that's not what they meant' when we all know otherwise."

...and Kyroot said:

In certain universes just getting close to the end doesn't mean you're that far away from the begining.

...and Kyroot said:

All visible power is local.

...and Kyroot said:

Secrecy is the necessary refrigeration for keeping a real agenda.

...and Kyroot said:

The horny often arrive early.

•