The nearest thing there is to "unnatural conflict",
Would be in the debate regarding whether conflict is natural or not.

One guy would sometimes tell his kid, "If you can't think any better than that you shouldn't even think."

I gotta admit to you,
It's easier just to be cute and popular.

Regarding some matters Revolutionaire,
Those who "don't fit in",
Don't fit.

Remember, boys and girls, women and men, and all ships at sea - contemporary intelligence won't get it.

Ordinary talk is always about that which already is,
Revolutionist speech is not so easily described.

...and Kyroot said:

If the "truth" were a thing, (as ordinary thought would have it),
We'd all be wealthy merchants,
Living in the streets, starving.

If one of your City relatives tells you,
That he can "see the light at the end of the tunnel",
He's telling you that he ain't got much of a tunnel.

Up near base camp I overheard this one guy say to himself,
"O.k., you symptoms can stay,
But the ill's've gotta go."

...and Kyroot said:

Say,

You remember that guy I told you about

Who had as his working motto; "Advice to all, assistance to none."?, well,

He now says that, "Least you think the

"Absolute worst of him",

He wants you to also know that he doesn't even help himself.

On this planet, one way to tell if you're still alive every morning,
Is to see if you either feel good or bad,
And can say so.

...and Kyroot said:

Story telling, and myth weaving in Camp is one thing,

But down in the City, by gawd, many who tell 'em begin to believe 'em.

If you live-at-home - and I mean if you get slick-i-c-k - SLICK enough to really "live at home",.....wait, I don't want this to get too
confused - start again;

If you live at home,
You don't have far to go

Older cerebral voice, "Why my dear, I can't tell you how much I've enjoyed this.",

And fresher voice replies, "I know."

...and Kyroot said:

While waiting for the light, on a corner in another City, a fellow said to me, "If it's correct, as I've heard, that, 'the truth has no author', then I say they should take all the veracity royalties that have piled up and divide them up equally amongst all us perceptive, and insightful folk."...
...(he then near-bout stepped in front of a bus.)

...then in response, his brother said, "God, what a team we make, cause everything else reminds me of something."

...and Kyroot said:

All Revolutionist activity is a performance,
And all such performances are myths and metaphors,
And no myths are correct, or any metaphor perfect,
For if they were,
It would be no performance.

...and Kyroot said:

The world's greatest metaphors, of course,
Can never be written.

When Life decides to discontinue a certain pattern
It will introduce a new religion;
When it has an over-run,
It sets up this kinda stuff as an outlet.

Remember; Even if a Revolutionist has a name, an address, an occupation and identity card, remember - it's JUST a joke!
