Today's, "Moment Of Inspiration":

If you pretend,

You don't know,

Long enough,

It may become true.

...and Kyroot said:

Any attempt,
To convey a
Universal truth,
Will not do so.

...and Kyroot said:

"I like it,
I like it:,
Cried the first one;
"Well you wrote it,
You wrote it!",
Said the other;
First one replies,
"You can't trick me that easily - I still like it."

...and Kyroot said:

No matter,
What the signs say,
And the ads promise,
In the City,
There's not really,
Much help available.

...and Kyroot said:

Rather than have to,
Actually,
Confront himself,
This one fellow,
Would cross to the,
Other side of the street.

...and Kyroot said:

Appearances are,
Damn near everything,
(And even when they're not,
They still mean a lot.)

...and Kyroot said:

Anyone who,

"Knows what the problem is",

Won't know how to fix it,

And none involved,

Will ever realize this.

.....(Is it not almost, Too cute to calculate.)

...and Kyroot said:

Very first thing,
Every morning,
This one person would,
Wrap up their concept,
Of the preceeding day,
By loudly whining,
"It's all,
'Oh-so-obvious',
To me now."

...and Kyroot said:

If you're,
Not your own,
Imaginary playmate,
Someone else will be.

In a quarky part,
Of one foreign universe,
Is a sentence that says,
"If the state will not harm the people,
The people must harm themselves."

Query: Would you care to visit such a place?....Are you sure?....Are you certain you could be sure whether you were there or not?...
Are you sure?

Amidst the midst of,
Time, brambles, and activity,
One guy,
(To the surprise of all,
And with all including himself),
Suddenly cried out,
"Why if life were any more fun,
I might actually enjoy it."

...and Kyroot said:

Oh, Okay, think the worst, and here's some more ammunition for you: Everyone's in conspiracy against everyone else...(THERE!, happy?)

...and Kyroot said:

It is rumored,
That in some parts,
People still artificially,
Named their children Mozart,
In the hope that they will,
Move often.

...and Kyroot said:

"It is inevitable,
But ture - no, I misspelled that,
It should be 'true',
It is inevitable,
But true...well,
Maybe I should say,
It is inevitable,
But sad,
Yes, that's it.",
He said,
Satisfied now with himself,
And continued,
"It is inevitable,
But sadly true that,
As soon as someone,
Becomes famous,
They want to start talking about themself."

...and Kyroot said:

One guy's conception of "how things go",
he expressed thusly;

"Find an idea you like,
then fuck it til it don't excite you anymore."

...and Kyroot said:

Holding children,
High in the air,
When they're young,
Can instill in them,
A deep love for the ground.

A chap wrote me and said he felt that in many of my Kyroots

I was specifically making fun of him;

I responded, pointing out that I did not even KNOW him, and he wrote back saying, "Yes, and that makes it all the worse."

...and Kyroot said:

For efficiency,
Life leads critics,
To feel superior,
To their prey.

The official transcript;

Show the conversation-cum-

Interregation,

To have gone so;

"I originally wanted to,

Become a priest so I could help people.",

"No you didn't.",

"I originally wanted to, Become a priest so I could serve god."

"No you didn't.",

"I originally wanted to, Become a priest for no reason I know of."

"Good - now send in the next one.",

"I originally wanted to, Become a thief so I could help people.".....

...and Kyroot said:

Why wait,
Until the last minute;
Go ahead and be pleased,
And thankful now.

...and Kyroot said:

Under certain,
Thermal conditions,
Those who say the most,
Have the most to say.

...(We will speak of,
Humidity anomalies,
At another time.)

Although it's not,
Widely known,
(Which fact has no, Noticable significance herein),
And yet,
Although it's not,
Widely known,
There's one guy - one single guy - by him self,
That's in charge of everything,
In the universe that's uncertain.

If being dumb,

Doesn't make you ill - Hey, you got it made!
