And I'm going to present it to you
In the form of a book
Which I shall call, "Story Of A Search."*

What a person is attempting to convey verbally.
After the show was over
The interviewer asked the author,
Who had been a singular bundle of
Ticks, jerks, and posturing,
If his OWN uncontrolled,
Mechanical movements wouldn't
Hurt the sale of his books
Among the potentially interested,
And the writer smiled,
Touche'd the reporter's hand and reassuringly said,
*"Son, you just don't know how things

Yet another TV-land viewer writes in as follows,

"Dear Sirs:

Regarding a current discussion

Several other viewers have brought up

About your continuing reference to such things as Squirrels and airplanes,

They seem to be debating the metaphoric value

Of these ideas while I think there is none:

I don't think you have anything particular in mind

When you speak of squirrels-doing-this, and

Airplanes-doing-that, and

That you USE these relatively unexpected pictures

Just to make us THINK

You have something deeper and more profound in mind.

What do you say to THAT?, Senor Kyroot!

Yours, Truly.";
