

...and Kyroot said:

Several times a year - just to be on the safe side -
This one guy'd check with local travel agents to See if any trips had been booked in his name.

...and Kyroot said:

Revolutionist Jurisprudence Update: The defense of the past is unjustified.

...and Kyroot said:

To save his valuable time,

Whenever he'd get a new book

This one chap would immediately place a page-marker well into the work.

...and Kyroot said:

Only the ordinary mind will work with never a promise of payment.

...and Kyroot said:

He says he figures that early on in life
Somebody painted the word, "Orphanage" on his back
Since so much of what he thinks seems to be ideas someone left on his doorstep.

...and Kyroot said:

Whatever's going on RIGHT NOW
Is never of much interest to most.

...and Kyroot said:

Two doors down from the map shop,

A man said that he now finds that in certain areas

He can understand things better if he doesn't think about them.

(He displayed no signs of desiring a response to this observation.)

...and Kyroot said:

There was this one reality that'd let "Getting started" pass for success.
(What a SWEET thing to do.)

...and Kyroot said:

No variety is sufficient unless it is greater than the variety that proceeded it.

...and Kyroot said:

Signing himself as a, "Concerned Viewer", a chap writes
To say that my referal to ordinary people as "ordinary" - he finds personally offensive.

...and Kyroot said:

This one realm said, "Holdall my calls.",
Which nicely managed to strangle any who got in too close..

...and Kyroot said:

And since today DID arrive as scheduled, I'll tell you about another
Ole man who told his kid,

"Going off on a 'mystical quest' with a Joy Buzzer
Strikes ME as a problematic thing to do — problematic and FUN, but probably problematic all the same.";

After a momentary pause the kid asked,
"Aren't you going to add,
'But I COULD be wrong'?",
And El Old-0 replied,
"Is THAT really necessary?!!!"

...and Kyroot said:

One obvious advantage to "admitting you feel guilty" as opposed to "wetting your pants in public" is the savings in cleaning bills.

...and Kyroot said:

Only the revolutionist can name his universe;
Others can name their galaxy, or solar system,
But only the revolutionist can name his universe.

...and Kyroot said:

You could look upon it like this: Ordinary thinking doesn't really even deal in facts,
But in things that kinda resemble facts.

...and Kyroot said:

The mayor of this one city says he's waited a year
Before bringing back up the subject of the Number of his constituents who complain about the
"Sloppiness of the garbage collectors";

He says he thought allowing a good solid, twelve months to pass
Might give both he and us time to discern some metaphorical message
In this otherwise meaningless lesson in civic logic and insanity.

...and Kyroot said:

Upstairs from where they store the permanent records of the Hog Scores,
A fellow leaned forward in his chair and said
That if we ARE to consider our ordinary minds as a kind of "Incendiary device" then he now looks on his old one as a disposable lighter.

...and Kyroot said:

One reality told its young apprentice,

"If you can make all the creatures scream real loud all at the same time

You can do your own horror movie."

...and Kyroot said:

Standing just off to the side,
This chap noted that even though
He understood the unacknowledged basis for
Court etiquette HE wasn't going to be the first to mention it.

...and Kyroot said:

One guy stores all ~~despair~~ on the ceiling.

...and Kyroot said:

During his mid afternoon coffee break,
One of the newer park philosophers told a circle of kids near the pond
That while there was no doubt of the buses being pedestrian and predictable,
He believed that "The routes have a mind of their own."

...and Kyroot said:

A central myth of one neighboring universe
Says that the day still lies ahead
Wherein the mighty battle will be ultimately fought between
The Actors, and the Action.

...and Kyroot said:

The collective achievements of man can certainly be interesting,
But their significance to the revolutionist is no greater than is
His number of livers to his ordinary thinking.

...and Kyroot said:

Squirrels are not simply "Tree rats",

(At least that's the message THEY want me to send along.

.....[Same, for your thoughts -- That is,

That's what they want me to tell you about them].)

...and Kyroot said:

A suggestion from a viewer:

"I believe your show might get more popular
If you would quote more dead people,
And like that. "

...and Kyroot said:

Once he could afford it,
The warrior-king of this one tribe
Had the word, "subtle" surgically removed from his vocabulary.

...and Kyroot said:

The more complex becomes the secondary world,
The greater sophistication necessary to appear patently foolish.

(This is certainly not to infer that it is impossible;
It just requires a slight bit more of effort, that's all.)

...and Kyroot said:

Every year this one man would try to die, at least once.

...and Kyroot said:

A man who undertakes to revise and re-write himself - let me start that again:
A revolutionist who undertakes to revise and re-write himself
Embarks on a kind of suicide via cheap, digital watch.

...and Kyroot said:

Some things can only be understood by those who understand them.

...and Kyroot said:

One man told his son,

"Anytime you're thinking how 'silly' someone else's interests are,

Ask yourself this: If they would avail themselves of my wisdom and listen to me —

What would I have them doing instead?"

...and Kyroot said:

A reality that wouldn't instantly turn on you for no apparent reason is only half a reality.

...(Hey,
Cheer up, Bunk-0,
You don't know what BAD news IS!)

...and Kyroot said:

One man's finger would only bleed when he cut it,

And his head bruise only when he hit it:

    If it ain't broke — Don't break it.

...and Kyroot said:

True, revolutionist variety can move in all possible directions,
Hence it is not only possible to see, everything connected,
But also, everything UN-connected.

...and Kyroot said:

Cheer-Up-Call For The Day -- (Somewhere): A man that ain't got no family
Ain't got to attend no reunion.

(Lexicologist's Commentary, Volume 3:

"There is no need to include
Profanity in a statement
Unless it is needed.

[Cf., page 224, paragraph 3].)

...and Kyroot said:

At times when he didn't know what to say next,

This one guy...Hey, is this a "Y", or a "D"...does it say 'guy', or 'god'?.....

When he didn't know what to say this one guy, or god'd fool EVERY body and just shut up.

...and Kyroot said:

A certain neural bundle in our audience,
Who says he's considerably younger than me,
Says he's going to wait until the copyrights run out,
Then claim HE wrote all the Kyroots;
He points out that there's nothing I can do about this
Since I'll be dead for sure by then.
(He wants to know if I mind him doing this.)

...and Kyroot said:

It is indeed a strange land wherein
The "Comments-on-a-thing", and the
"Things-commented-on" are inseparable and codependent.
This is the land in which thinking man lives and flourishes.

...and Kyroot said:

Trying to make life look bad by your own descriptions
Is one of the few games with a guaranteed outcome.

(One brother said he just "loved" assurances,
While the other said his heart belonged to "warranties",
And in her sports-minded wisdom
Their mother slapped the finality outa both of them.)

...and Kyroot said:

Whenever this other reality wanted to make its creatures really "feel bad",
It'd make 'em feel bad.

(Such is the nature of a reality "out-of-control" -- which is the middle name of most of them.)

...and Kyroot said:

One guy's brain played a game it called, "Go Figure".

...and Kyroot said:

After hearing the idea that, "He whose cause is just is thrice armed.",
A chap pondered, "Then how well equiped would that make a man with NO argument?!!"

(Note: It IS possible that those not
Involved in conflict,
Or in preparation to be so,
MIGHT not receive the same
Attention from life.

[File this under whatever
Sensation you see fit.]

...and Kyroot said:

Right in the middle of the convention
The man climbed up on a chair and loudly proclaimed,
"Were it not for sissies - fiction would never get writ."

(Someone reported that as they were taking him out he further muttered,
"In fact, revolutionists consider even NON-fiction as cat food"...[Allah only knows
What THAT means])

...and Kyroot said:

More people around here pretend that they feel bad than actually do.

...and Kyroot said:

The

News reports coming in from the city,

One rebel summarized as, "Something big,

Something small,

And a whole lot in between."

...and Kyroot said:

In a land where the words are not in conflict
The people are perishing from an initial inertia.

...and Kyroot said:

Sleeping with neural noises you wouldn't dance with in public
Continues to be a well populated city hobby.

(And a viewer writes:

"Why is it that so many of your

Subtle notations regarding the workings of

The human intellect at first strike me as ridiculous,

Then soon, as most pertinent?

Is this some kind of trick?;

Some form of delayed hypnosis?;

Or am I begining to get somewhere finally?

I do hope this letter makes some sense to you,

But if it doesn't, just remember -- My BRAIN made me

Write it.

Sincerely",etc.)

...and Kyroot said:

Nothing exists unless it has a name — (and some things have TOO many.)

...and Kyroot said:

Another benefit of being a revolutionist is that nobody else knows what the benefits are.

...and Kyroot said:

From The Literary Calender Of May-Bee Events comes this item:

The "Final Statement" on the,
"Discernment, Interpretation and Acceptance of the Obvious"
Could still be written in your lifetime.

(And all the head-squirrels shouted — "So WATCH IT!!")

...and Kyroot said:

After hearing of the latest idea being debated among the court's
Intellectual dilletantes that, "Less is more",
The king,
Wiping one drop of sweat from his lip,
Said to a minister,
"I trust I am safe in assuming that the Author of this notion is NOT in a position of Authority in our Office of Tax Collections."

(The queen bees in many neural hives
Have little natural tolerance for Philosophies that sting.)

...['Hey', asked a kid in the audience,
"IS that some kind of moral or something
That you're trying to slip in on us
Amateur viewers?']

(The youngsters in many situations
Have little native inclination to Become entangled in a prolonged series of epilogues)]

---

...and Kyroot said:

One man's unfailing advice to himself-o: "The danger with being serious is
You begin to believe it yourself."

...(He says that in his next lifetime
He'll be taking up the question of Just what IS "danger".)

...and Kyroot said:

Whenever this one fellow would speak a witticism

Followed by an equally penetrating, "P.S."

He'd say,

"There's nothing like the ole intellectual, 'One-Two'.",

And the Numbers Sequence injected,

"Except for the ole, 'Three-Four', and the ole 'Five-Six',

And like that.....'Ellipses, Onward!' "

...and Kyroot said:

A respectable thinker is a sycophant to himself.

...and Kyroot said:

In the secondary world success is suicidal.

...and a member of the family added;

"Plus it's not as much fun."

...and Kyroot said:

While traveling around, surveying some of his handiwork,
This one reality, after some specific notice of his talking creatures,
Turned and said to his chauffeur,
"What did I ever do to make them act so seriously?!!"

...and Kyroot said:

A man writes to say that he appreciates the fact that
He doesn't have to think about our program any more than he does.

...and Kyroot said:

News-Item-To-Keep-Under-Your-Chapeau: More men think reality's watching them than it is.

(From one non-respectable view,
This is NOT all THAT big a secret;
Still-and-all,
No one much likes to hear about it.)