

...and Kyroot said:

Well, as you may have suspected, it IS more UFN's, and I still don't know why they're being blamed on me.

But, whoever's responsible,
here they are again.

- Never fail to "salute" the ugly, after all, if THEY "get ahead" it is surely on merit.
- Never forget how few people you may "discuss" something with have ever given the matter any thought at all.
- Never "borrow trouble" until you've considered the full tax advantages of leasing.
- Never bother to have your Rolex "tuned up" if you're going to be hanging out with people who are ADAMANT in their belief that "all things come to those who wait.", etc., etc., tick, tick, tick.
- Never, in an attempt to gain some "personal space", should you, in a crowded restroom, shout, "Man overboard."
- Never, while discussing the metaphysical mysteries of existence with an armed theologian, use the word "enema" for "enigma."
- Never pay extra for an "In-field Pass" unless you're absolutely sure you will not have to spend the entire race day seated on a NASCAR driver's greasy brother-in-law.
- Never call a "famous person" you admire by their first name, it can cause them to explode.
- Never base your avocational plans on a course entitled, "How To Become A Former Celebrity."
- Never patronize a hospital, a police station, or a law firm who are advertising a "going out of business sale."
- Never, even in a "good faith" attempt to be a "good ole boy", and entertain your camping buddies, should you agree to zip yourself up nude in a sleeping bag with a stimulated badger.
- Never attempt "suicide" with an apartment-size clothes dryer.
- Never agree to "go to" Tahiti unless you're absolutely sure that they mean the REAL Tahiti, and not the one in South Carolina.
- Never, even in the heated spirit of "Halloweenic fun", should you try and "scare the be-jesus" out of the Archbishop Of Cranberry.
- Never allow "them" to conduct even a low level nuclear test in your ear.
- Never ask a "dinner companion" to "pass you the rolls" if they have just been speaking favorably of the joys of sexual acts involving less than 2 people.
- Never, in a contest between "planning", and "chance", bet on the former.
- Never agree to "show" a pirate where the restrooms are if he has his "swash" already unbuckled.
- Never blame your intestines for what your stomach did; never blame your stomach for what your mouth did; never blame your mouth for what your eyes did, and never blame your eyes for what your brain did. and of course, never, never, NEVER, blame your "poor widdle brain" for ANY-thing...there, there, little brain.
- Never stand and remove your underwear while they are playing your host's national anthem.